Do you like to play war games? If so then you probably enjoy finding the different kind of sports out there and trying them out. There really are hundreds if not thousands of these on the web so finding the best ones can be mixed with playing plenty of undeserving ones. The last thing you want to do is waste your time so you need to know which one of them are fun and which ones you should skip! The following list has a few games that have been reviewed well by other players that you might want to give a try. Just search your favorite search engine to find them and start with it. You will have a lot of fun and be glad you had some suggestions to go on.

Gringo Bandido The Gringo Bandido game is a lot of fun and other players seem to really like it. It is a game based in the Wild West and you have to kill all the wanted criminals to restore order to the area. You must kill all the criminals and bandits until the wanted criminal comes out. So, you are working your way up the ladder to find the biggest and baddest criminal. As you kill more criminals you move up to more and more weapons. The more weapons you have the harder it is to kill the crime bosses so prepare yourself!

Sundown Shootout The Sundown Shootout is another fun game that is all about being the fastest gun around. You must not only fire your weapon but you must do so accurately. You go out to shoot in duels and you can only win when you have reduced your opponents HP to zero. A tip is to reach the target area faster than your opponent does so you have a leg up. You have money and will be able to purchase clothes and guns to help you shoot better and win. There are mini-games you can play, too.

The Sniper If you like to play something which is based on war then you will really like The Sniper. This game is based on World War II and you will pretend to be a British sniper who parachutes behind the enemy lines. You will be a sniper so you have to try to kill enemy troops in a particular area quickly. Once you start shooting the enemy snipers will start shooting back at you so be prepared.

Catapult Assault If you love to play with catapults to knock down other targets then you will love Catapult Assault. This is all about hitting the targets and knocking them down. When you do so correctly you will win prizes! There are many other entertaining sports online for you. So if you like something based on war then you just need to search out different ones and start playing them. Start playing with the games suggested here and then work your way to others. Just have fun and enjoy yourself when you play war games!
